

New Adviceline Number for Citizens Advice South Lincolnshire

Citizens Advice South Lincolnshire is urging people who are struggling due to the pandemic to get in touch online, or on the phone using the new local freephone Adviceline which went live on 1st February 2021.

Its team of staff and volunteers are ready to answer questions on everything from housing, debt, unemployment and benefits issues. Adviceline is open from Monday to Friday between 09:00 and 16:00.

Citizens Advice South Lincolnshire quickly adapted its services to make sure it could support people in Spalding, Stamford and Grantham throughout the pandemic.

Simon Richards, Chief Officer of Citizens Advice South Lincolnshire, said: “The new number will ensure our services are free, so they will be more accessible to people who may be struggling to pay bills or have other financial difficulties.”

“Adviceline has been freephone since the beginning of Autumn and we encourage those that need support to use the service. We are here to help in these very challenging times.”

If you need advice you can contact Citizens Advice South Lincolnshire via:

- Its free local number: 0808 278 7996
- Its website: citizensadvice-southlincs.org.uk
- Email, for debt advice: moneyadvice2@citizensadvice-southlincs.org.uk